VOL. XIX.]

THURSDAY, JULY 23, 1818.

[No. 5286.]

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS
is recommended
Hahn's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS.
THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.
They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir.
A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthma, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.—

covery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Plaster.

from corrosive and repellent minerals,
the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scurfs, tetters, ring-

he said, to go to Ellicott's Mills, and return in the afternoon of the same day;
and as he has not yet returned, there is strong reason to believe that his intention is to swindle me out of my property. He is about 5 feet 8 or 9 inches high, apparently about 25 or 30 years of age, of genteel appearance, and well calculated to deceive.
The horse is a grey, about 15 hands high, 9 or 10 years old, has a switch tail, a speck on the right eye, and moves swiftly. The gig has a green body, carriage and wheels black, the lining of blue cloth; red stuff top, linings, plated double—outside linings.

EPICURUM.

Observe fair Celia, all in all,
Mild, beautiful and young;
"Tis true—but then her mouth's so small,
"It cannot hold her tongue."

The learned Johnson, with all his affected contempt for female society, was by no means ignorant of the empire which the sex held over all our affections. Witness the subsequent extract. A fairer, and at the same time, a more exquisite compliment was never offered on the altar of beauty:—

A solitary philosopher, says he, would imagine ladies born with an exemption from care and sorrow, lulled in perpetual quiet, and feasted with unmingled pleasure; for what can interrupt the contentment of those, upon whom one age has labored after another to confer honors and accumulate immunities; those to whom rudeness is infamy, and insult cowardice; whose eye commands the brave, and whose smiles soften the severe; whom the sailor travels to adorn, the soldier bleeds to defend, and the poet wears out his life to celebrate; who claims tribute from every art and science, and for whom all who approach endeavor to multiply delights without requiring any return but willingness to be pleased

WILD OXEN AND WILD DOGS AT BUENOS AYRES.

"This fertile province is remarkable, for two kinds of wild animals, wild oxen and wild dogs.

"The number of wild oxen here is so great, that every year 100,000 are killed solely for the use of their hides. About 20 hunters on horseback proceed to spots where these animals are known to herd, having in their hands a long stick shod with iron, very sharp, with which they strike the ox that they pursue, on one of the hind legs; and they make the blow so adroitly, that they almost always cut the sinews in two above the joint. The animal soon afterwards falls, and cannot rise again. The hunters instead of stopping, pursue the other oxen at full gallop, with the reins loose, striking in the same manner all which they overtake; thus eighteen or twenty men will with ease kill 7 or 800 oxen in an hour. When they are tired of the exercise, they dismount to rest, and afterwards, without danger, knock on the head the oxen which they have wounded. After taking the skin, and sometimes the tongue and suet, they leave the rest for the birds of prey.

"Wild Dogs.—These ferocious animals have descended from some of the domestic kinds that have formerly gone astray, and have multiplied to an excessive degree in the counties near Buenos Ayres. They live underground in holes, which may be easily discovered by the quantity of bones heaped round them. It may be with propriety supposed, that some time or other, when the wild oxen are destroyed, so that the dogs cannot obtain them, they will fall upon men. One of the governors of Buenos Ayres thought this subject so well worth his attention; that he sent some soldiers to destroy the wild dogs, and they killed great numbers of them with their muskets. But on their return, they were insulted by the women and children of the town who were very insolent—they called them mataperreros, which means dog killers: whence it has happened, that the men, disheartened by a false shame, have never returned to that kind of hunting." LITERARY.

We learn that Major Noah, late Consul of the United States, at Tunis, is preparing for the press an octavo volume of Travels in England, Spain, France, and the Barbary States, in the years 1813–14 and 15, together with a history of our War with Algiers, and a general view of our relations with the Regencies of Barbary. This work we have no doubt will be extremely interesting, particularly as it is contemplated to embrace a detailed account of the antiquities of Carthage, Utica, and the surrounding country. It is gratifying to perceive that American travellers are giving to the country the result of their experience and observation; and their country in return is able and willing to hold forth due encouragement. This is a sure method to establish and perpetuate a literary character of our own. Those sketches of the Barbary States which were published in the Democratic Press, in the fall of 1816, and generally republished throughout the union, were from the notes taken by Major Noah on the spot. ALEXANDRIA:
THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 23.

John W. Green, esq. is appointed by the Governor and Council of Virginia, Chancellor of the Williamsburg and Fredericksburg Chancery Courts, in the place of Robert Nelson, deceased.

Of the fifty-five patriots who signed the Declaration of Independence, the following are the only members who are now living, viz: Thomas Jefferson, of Virginia; John Adams, of Massachusetts; Charles Carroll, of Maryland; Wm. Floyd, of New-York; and Wm. Ellery, of Rhode Island.

NEW-YORK CANAL.

In one section of country through which this canal is to pass, a distance of 85 miles, not less than 2000 men are employed. It is believed that this excavation will be completed, and much done towards the construction of the necessary embankments, culverts, locks, &c. by December next.

IMPROVEMENT IN SCIENCE.

Extract of a letter from a scientific gentleman in Philadelphia, to another in Wilmington, dated July 9, 1818.

Benjamin Tucker, of this city, has a Leyden jarso constructed, that a full charge of electricity can be passed through the system without exciting any sensation, other than a slight twinge—he can produce a profuse perspiration in 20 minutes—and if there is no fallacy in the thing, it will be an important discovery.

Extracts of letters dated Liverpool, 4th and 5th of June.

"Within the last few days our flour market has become more steady, and higher prices have been generally asked by the holders. Yesterday about 5000 barrels were taken by the trade at 44 a 45s and some small lots of Philadelphia have been sold at 46 per bbl. For wheat too, there is more demand both here and in London. The weather is very fine, but if it continues much longer without rain, the country will suffer. Cotton is steady at 20s 4d a 24s 4d for Upland; 21 a 23s 4d for New-Orleans, and 3s a 3s 10d per lb. for Sea Islands.

American rice in bond may be quoted at 36s per cwt and 45s would be given for duty paid. The sales of ashes are very limited at our quotations, viz: Boston pots, 54 a 55s; New-York do 53 a 54; Montreal, 52 a 53; pearls, 55 6 a 56 6 per cwt." [Baltimore Patriot.]

FROM ST. AUGUSTINE.

A gentleman from St. Augustine, who left it on the 4th inst. informs us that there are not more than one hundred troops in the fort—and that they were on half allowance, provisions being very scarce. Our informant contradicts the report that preparations were making to resist the American troops, should they make an attack; on the contrary, it was openly avowed that if a demand was made for its surrender by general Jackson, the governor would give it up! We also learn, that no vessel with provisions and money for the garrison, had arrived at Augustine, as was reported a few days since. A schooner with provisions from Havana, bound to Augustine, was captured near the latter port, by a patriot privateer, in May last, the provisions taken out and the vessel scuttled. There were a number of Americans at Augustine, on the St. John's, and elsewhere in the Florida, purchasing upland, under the expectation that the provinces would soon fall into the possession of the United States. MISERIES OF PRINTERS.

Among the complaints, which the editors of our Newspapers have to make, and they are most certainly not "few nor far between" is that most crying sin of negligence in many country post-offices. After we have been at all the pains of collecting news, seeing the paper set up, worked from the press, directed to subscribers, and carefully depositing them in the post-office, our whole labor is sometimes set at naught by the remissness of a country post-master. He will not forward the paper to the subscriber, or to the neighboring offices. Sometimes the packet which is addressed to his own office—let it arrive ever so safely into his own hands, never reaches the different individuals for whom it was intended. Sometimes the Post-master itches to learn the news himself—opens the paper, cons it over, throws it down, and it is never replaced in the box. Sometimes he hands out a paper to a particular friend, who never thinks of handing it back. Sometimes the mail is opened in a back room in the presence of his neighbors who very unceremoniously help themselves, and pocket papers, for which they have never paid one cent.—Promises in these cases are scarcely ever fulfilled. "Only lend me the paper for one hour, sir, and I will be sure to return it." The sheet is found to possess some particular attraction: either a great battle, a pretty song, or a recipe for the tooth-ache, and he never remembers to return it, until the next mail day, when the paper is lost, and an apology is made for his negligence.— Sometimes instead of the back-room of a store, the mail is carried to the bar or passage of a public house—where packets are opened by any one, and papers pilfered, with as little ceremony, as if they were the property of the first finder.—Sometimes the positive instructions of the Post-Master General to report all dead papers, are expressly disregarded, to furnish the Post-Master an opportunity of reading the news or accommodating some neighbor who is good enough to indulge his curiosity at the printer's expense.

The negligence of the Post-Masters, is fraught with very sore evils to the unhappy editors. His subscribers tax him with postage and murmurs. Some refuse to pay for papers which they have never received.— Many, who wish to take the paper, are prevented by the uncertainty of its transmission. Papers are sent on from year to year, to a particular gentleman, and when the printer calls for his pay, lo! his chagrin in finding it to have been a dead one, that the Post Master kept it for his own use, and that the subscriber is dead, or run away.

It is time to put a stop to these crying evils. They cry from every quarter, north, south, east, and west—with this distinction that the more county officers are on the Mail line, the more frequent are the failures, and the sorer the evil. As might be supposed, these complaints are not confined to the United States—they are made by the English printers, and perhaps more so than with us, for in this country, there is a tax upon each paper which passes into the Post-Master's pocket—this may in some little degree lead him to take a little more care of it, that he may receive his postage on it; but in Great Britain there is no postage paid upon them.

In an English print, now before us, of last December, we find that the nuisance had become so great in Ireland as to call for the interposition of the General Post-Office in Dublin—the following orders were accordingly issued:

1st. "That where a Post-Master, on opening his Mail, shall find that Paper which he thinks should have reached his Office, has not arrived, he will, by letter, acquaint the Secretary with the circumstance, and name of the Subscriber, whose paper may appear to be missing.

2d. "No paper is to be delivered but to the Subscriber, or to his Messenger or Servant, known to be such.

3d. "That under no pretence, either with or without the consent of a Subscriber, shall a deputy open and read a Newspaper, previous to its being delivered to its Owner, and of course, from under his official care. If Subscribers are willing that Post-Masters should have the benefit of reading their Papers, it must be after, not while they have official custody of them.

4th. "That no deputy will, under any authority, either written or verbal, permit any Paper to be opened, and read by any Person but the Subscriber to whom it is addressed. If Subscribers are willing to permit Persons to read their Papers, it must be after the Post-Office has discharged its duty, in delivering it to themselves, or their Messengers, known to be such. Post-Offices must not be converted into Reading-rooms. Such a practice, while it must add to, if not create, the very evil complained of, affords the very same advantages with Subscribers, to persons who thereby contribute nothing either to the Post-Office, the Stamp-Office, or the Editor. Deputy Post-Masters must not be Agents in Acts, which have a direct tendency to injure one Branch of Public Revenue and by curtailing the Circulation of Newspapers, interfere with the Interests of the Press.

In the Circular upon this subject it is very properly observed, that "A Newspaper once confided to the Post-Office, is as sacred, in the eyes of the Post-Master General, as a Letter—and it cannot be pilfered, tampered with, or abused, without violating the solemn obligation which every person entrusted with the public correspondence is bound by.—Although Newspapers do not yield postage, their uninterrupted circulation is immediately connected with the Privilege of Parliament; and while they contribute largely to the finances of the country, through another Branch of the Revenue, the Stamp-Office, the Post-Masters-General are not unmindful that the property thus contributing to the State belongs to individuals, whose interest cannot be infringed upon, without lessening the Public Revenue."

The 3d and 4th instructions are particularly good—and the sound lesson of public morals, which is preached by the whole extract, is eminently worthy of attention.— May not some additional regulations be necessary in this Country? And may not the Post-Master-General find in these instructions some hints for himself to work upon?

Among a number of original and select articles in the Democratic Press; it is mentioned that Mr. T. Wilkie of Paternoster row, London, is preparing to publish the dramatic works of Mr. Sheridan, to which will be prefixed a correct life of the author. Mr. Richard Hand proposes to publish by a subscription, a Treatise on the Art of Painting on Glass, which corrects an erroneous impression, that the ancients excelled in the art, and denies that the art has been lost.

A material for roofing is used in England which is both cheap and durable. It is formed by slipping sheets of coarse paper, (such as button makers use) in boiling tar, and nailing them on boards or laths, exactly in the manner of slates. The whole is afterwards coated over with a mixture of pitch and powdered charcoal, chalk or brick dust. Roofs covered in this way are said to have lasted 50 years without repairs.

Miss Lucy Aikin, in London, is preparing for the press, Memoirs of the court of Queen Elizabeth; with biographical anecdotes, &c. &c. of an interesting period of English history.

The first volume of the History of Great Britain, from 1688 to 1763, is shortly expected to appear in England from the pen of Sir Jas. Mackintosh.

London, May 20.

Queen's birth day.—Yesterday her majesty completed her 74th year.

We are informed by a correspondent from abroad, that the disputes about territorial arrangements between the king of Bavaria and the grand duke of Baden, are not likely to be settled until the meeting of the high allied sovereigns this autumn.— Our readers will recollect a very animated and interesting correspondence took place, a short time since, between the parties at issue, in consequence of the avowed pretensions of the king of Bavaria to part of the Baden dominions. The letters that passed on that subject, appeared to us of so delicate and confidential a nature, that at first we had some doubts as to their authenticity; but we are informed by our correspondent, that the letters in question actually passed, and that their insertion in the public prints in Germany, may be ascribed to the circumstance of the cabinet of Munich having communicated the documents alluded to, to the foreign envoys accredited at that court.

The agricultural reports from every quarter of the continent appear to be of the most flattering description. Ever since the beginning of April, the weather has been uncommonly warm; the trees are almost all out of blossom; the fruit is set, and the corn is mostly in ear, and promises an abundant harvest. The price of corn has fallen rapidly. "For these thirty years past," says an article from Vienna, "there has not been a more fruitful and productive harvest, and vintage in Austria than we have reason to expect this year. Already, on the 6th of April, we had every where in our fields, even those where snow lay last year at the same time, the finest ears on the corn. The vines have already shoots six inches long. Our apricots are as large as small hen's eggs, and the trees heavily laden with fruit. The price of corn falls in an extraordinary manner."

Kaleidoscope.—A correspondent has made the following curious calculation of the number of changes this wonderful instrument will admit:—"Supposing (he says) the instrument to contain 20 small pieces of glass, each and that you make 10 changes in each minute it will take the inconceivable space of 462, 880,899,575 years and 360 days to go through the immense variety of changes it is capable of producing; amounting (according to our frail idea of the nature of things) to an eternity. Or if you take any 12 small pieces, and make 10 changes in each minute, it will then take 33,264 days, or 91 years and 49 days to exhaust its variations. However exaggerated this statement may appear to some, it is actually the case."

We repeat the statement we published on Saturday, that the business of parliament will be terminated about Saturday week, when a prorogation is expected, and the dissolution to follow about the 8th or 10th of June. But it must be obvious to our readers that any intention of dissolving parliament at that time may be changed. Much must depend on her majesty's health.

A Hamburg mail arrived last night; the contents of which are as follows:

London, May 18.

We have received from Algiers the following interesting and remarkable accounts:

Letter from Algiers, March 5.

The present Dey, Houssin, is a good man; he was one of the four ministers, master of the horse, or as they here call him, "Choudia de Cavallos," and, on the death of the late tyrant, was elected by the Divan, which has not been the case for these 20 years, as the six Pachas, before Aly, were murdered by the rebellious soldiery. This election, which took place in the most peaceful and orderly manner, has been attended with no bloodshed, nor has any one been banished; on the other hand, several individuals who were banished under Omar Pacha, as disturbers of the peace, are recalled and have obtained important offices. Time must show whether these persons will take warning from the lesson they have already received, or will set on foot new conspiracies.

The 1st of March, this year, the day of Aly Pacha's death, will be ever memorable in the annals of Algiers. That tyrant had still many ruinous projects and cruelties in contemplation, which were to have been shortly carried into effect. Thus there was found in his pocket book the following memorandum written by himself:—"The daughter of the English consul, a very pretty and sensible girl, 15 years old, and the sister of the Dutch consul, who is handsome and accomplished, shall be carried by force out of their houses, compelled to change their religion, and to be the Dey's mistress."

The daughter of the Spanish consul, who is not so handsome, shall be watched and kept in reserve. The English consul, the Spanish consul, and a Jew named Beniamin, who is under English protection, who had been already compelled to assume the turban, shall be beheaded."

The day for the execution of this horrid plan was not yet fixed. The Dey seemed to waver in his mind, and disposed to wait till he saw whether the consuls would submit to have their houses (which according to the treaties are to be considered as harems) broken into and plundered, or whether they would make any resistance; in this last case they were to be cut to pieces. He saw clearly that such cruelties would not pass without notice, and said often, "the Christians will probably come and bombard me a little, but I shall find means to make my peace."

Aly was not destitute of talents; but he was sometimes like one raving, or like a famished tiger or hyena: at an earlier period of his life, he had been confined in the mad house in the city. If he had continued to live, there is every appearance that all the foreign consuls, and the few other Europeans resident here, would have been put to death.

The plague still carries off between 50 and 60 persons daily.

Letter from Algiers, April 9.

Since the death of Aly, there has been only one execution here; it was that of his brother-in-law, an Arab, of the name of Hadgi Mustapha, and his brother, youth of 13 years of age; they were both tortured for 14 days, in various ways, got no sleep, and Hadgi was most severely lacerated. He received, first, 1000 strokes, and after that, 4 or 500 daily. After he had received 4,500 strokes, in this manner, he was sent home, where he died two days after, and his brother, who was treated in the same manner, shortly after. The Turks feared this family very much, and have therefore extirpated it.

We daily see here drunken armed Turks, in troops of 6 or 12 men, roving about the city and its environs, to plunder the poor Arabs who are attacked by the plague. The plague has not increased here, but it has spread towards the west, and extended to the two large towns of Oran and Mascara. The whole territory of Algiers suffers under this dreadful disease; there are plenty of people to be seen in the streets. Upon a little excursion which I made on horseback, I met with an incredible number of graves, both on the highways and in the fields. In two country houses, next mine, 17 persons have died, and only 3 remain alive.

It is uncertain whether the Algerine corsairs will go to sea or not; people say no; however, the papers requisite for a cruise have been demanded of the consuls.

How little reliance can be placed on Algerine friendship, appears from an official notice just published, to which the government has seized upon a Genoese brig, that was lying in the harbour here, notwithstanding all the remonstrances of the Sardinian vice consul. This brig has been sent to Alexandria, with pilgrims who are going to Mecca.

London, May 27.

Lord Cochrane's new vessel lies in the dry dock of the commercial dock, near Rotherhithe. She is of about 200 tons burden; and although she has three masts, with complete polearm rigging, she has also a steam apparatus, so that her lordship is prepared to make his own impetus, when he winds deny it, or when he and they do not agree. She is called the North Pole, and the name is inscribed on her stern—where also the constellation of the Bear is painted, and the North Star being on the Bear's tail.

The Tunisian squadron, which took refuge in Gibraltar, continues to be closely watched and blockaded by a Portuguese squadron, consisting of three frigates and two galleots, whose vigilance is represented as very incommodious to the barbarians. One of the frigates remains constantly in the road, while the rest of the squadron set sail every morning to cruise in the straits. The Tunisians will not venture to sail, fearing the result of an engagement with the Portuguese.

May 28.

It appears the inhabitants of Leipzig, or rather the booksellers of that city, have determined, by a majority of 101 votes against 10, to permit only Christians to carry on that trade at their usual fairs. The Jews, in consequence, have published an address to their brethren, calling upon them to unite against this intolerant design, and to petition the king of Prussia for leave to establish a fair at Naumburg, to be held twice a year, Easter and Michaelmas. In this address, they dwell upon the great advantage which Leipzig has derived from its fairs, and add, that those who carry on the greatest traffic there are the Jews, who resort thither from Russia, Turkey, and all Europe. They complain, with great justice, of a proceeding which would have suited better the darkest intolerance of ancient times. We are sorry to observe in the present age, any remains of that persecuting spirit which bigotry and ignorance fostered for many centuries against this race; and we hope the king of Prussia will avail himself of an opportunity to shew that he does not participate in its acts. It is the relic of a barbarous age, and consequently the disgrace of a civilized one.

Glasgow, May 21.

In the number of the New-York Evening Post for the 11th April, there appear the names of four hundred bankrupts advertising for the benefit of the insolvent act.— This is a melancholy proof (added to that from the number of the poor in New-York) of the rapid progress of cupidity among the Americans; who, while they possess the easy means of independence, are content to hazard them for the chance of obtaining rank among their neighbors for their wealth.

The Tunisian squadron, which took re- fuge in Gibraltar, continues to be closely watched and blockaded by a Portuguese squadron, consisting of three frigates and two galleots, whose vigilance is repre- sented as very incommode to the barba- rians. One of the frigates remains constantly in the road, while the rest of the squadron set sail every morning to cruise in the straits. The Tunisians will not venture to sail, fear- ing the result of an engagement with the Portuguese.

May 28.
It appears the inhabitants of Leipzig, or rather the booksellers of that city, have de- termined, by a majority of 101 votes a- gainst 10, to permit only Christians to car- ry on that trade at their usual fairs. The Jews, in consequence, have published an address to their brethren, calling upon them to unite against this intolerant de- sign, and to petition the king of Prussia for leave to establish a fair at Naumburg, to be held twice a year, Easter and Michael- mas. In this address, they dwell upon the great advantage which Leipzig has derived from its fairs, and add, that those who carry on the greatest traffic there are the Jews, who resort thither from Russia, Turkey, and all Europe. They complain, with great justice, of a proceeding which would have suited better the darkest intolerance of ancient times. We are sorry to ob- serve in the present age, any remains of that persecuting spirit which bigotry and ignorance fostered for many centuries a- gainst this race; and we hope the king of Prussia will avail himself of an opportunity to shew that he does not participate in its acts. It is the relic of a barbarous age, and consequently the disgrace of a civilized one.

Glasgow, May 21.
In the number of the New-York Evening Post for the 11th April, there appear the names of four hundred bankrupts adver- tising for the benefit of the insolvent act.— This is a melancholy proof (added to that from the number of the poor in New-York) of the rapid progress of cupidity among the Americans; who, while they possess the easy means of independence, are content to hazard them for the chance of obtaining rank among their neighbors for their wealth.

Fifty Dollars Reward.
RAN away from the subscriber, living near New-Port, Maryland, on Friday, the 25th May, a Negro Man named GE- RARD, about 5 feet high, of a dark com- plexion, about 30 years of age, stout made, limps a little when he walks: had on when he went away a country cloth jacket and trousers about half worn and coarse hat, but he may change his dress, as he has free connexions a little below St. Thomas's Ma- nor, at Nace Butler's. He has a wife at Thomas Jenner's Quarters, near Port To- bacco, and calls himself GERARD BUT- LER. He took a black mare with him, which he has since left at his father's, the said Nace's. He has been seen within a few weeks in Alexandria. Whoever takes up said Negro, and secures him in any jail so that I get him again, shall re- ceive the above reward.

Fifty Dollars Reward.
RAN away from the subscriber, on the 3d inst. Negro JEM, about 5 feet 5 inches high, 25 or 26 years of age, stout and well made, except that he is perhaps a little knockkneed; his complexion dark, has a large scar on the upper lip, occasion- ed, it is said, by his falling, when a child, on some edged tool; has a down look when spoken to, and is apt to be short and inso- lent in answering. The clothes he took with him are not recollected, except a red flannel shirt, a pair of Russia duck sailor's trousers, and a square wool hat with broad brim, nearly half worn. Having gone off without any provocation, it is probable his intention is to steer his course towards Bal- timore or Pennsylvania, and pass for a free- man. He has hauled the seine the two last seasons in Pomonkey, where he may have gone, or perhaps to Alexandria, where he is also a little acquainted. If taken 20 miles from home, or out of the county, I will give 20 dollars for securing him in any goal, or if taken 50 miles from home, or out of the state, I will give the above reward of fifty dollars.

Valuable Land for Sale.
I WILL sell the farm on which I re- side, known by the name of Indian Town, and containing about one thou- sand acres. It is situated in Charles Co. Md. on Nanjemoy Creek near its mouth, about seven miles from Port Tobacco, and forty from Washington City. Few farms combine greater advantages than this; added to a fertility of soil equal to any in the country, it binds on the creek nearly two miles, which affords great fa- cility in getting its productions to mar- ket, and precludes the necessity of much fencing; the creek affords in their sea- sons, fish and wild fowl in abundance.—The soil is peculiarly adapted to the growth of Tobacco, Wheat and Indian Corn, and the plaster has been found from experience to act on it admirably. There are now about 100 acres in clover, some of which is well set. The improve- ments are a new two story dwelling house 16 by 40 feet; kitchen, barn, sta- bles, carriage house, with every other ne- cessary out house, the whole in good re- pair. There is also a wind-mill in good order, the toll of which affords neat en- ough for the support of the farm.—Al- so, one other tract containing 115 acres in the forest, about three miles distant, entirely in the wood. There is a well of excellent water in the yard, and sev- eral springs on different parts of the farm. The premises may be viewed, and the terms known by application to the sub- scriber. Should the above farm be un- sold on the 1st of Sept. next, I will lease it for a term of years.

Dr. Thomson's System of Chemistry.
IN FOUR VOLUMES OCTAVO.
THE preceding edition of Dr. Thomson's Chemistry, had acquired so much reputation both in England and upon the continent of Europe, that a new edition, comprising the new facts which the science had been enriched, and the new views of the subject which extended knowledge had suggested as indispensable, was eagerly looked for by the scientific world. A new edition has accordingly appeared, wherein the former edition of five volumes has been condensed into four.
All the new discoveries, and all the new theories of Chemical Phenomena, have been considered and embraced in the present improved edition: so that it is indispensable to the chemical student, as presenting the only condensed view of the changes and alterations in chemical doctrine, which the discoveries of the last ten years have suggested. No apology therefore can be necessary for reprinting such a book in this country; for the press does not furnish a substitute for it. But, there is so much theoretical suggestion—so much abstruse calculation—so much fact of dubious authority—and so much dubious validity—that notes and illustrations are absolutely necessary, not merely to render the book more useful, but more intelligible.
Under these impressions, I thought fit to write notes in illustration (and sometimes in contradiction) of the work itself, rather than to make any abridgement of it. Those who wish to know the modern views of chemical science, must peruse it; and to very many, who will be anxious to study it, elucidation will be necessary. I have endeavored to supply these, to the best of my ability; regardless whether my own opinions are in dissonance or coincidence with those of my author; leaving to the reader to decide between us.

The work will be published, with notes and illustrations, in four volumes 8vo.
THOMAS COOPER, M. D.

James Kennedy & Son,
RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from LEE'S MEDICINE STORE,
No. 46, Maiden Lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges.
Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humors and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mild est purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.
Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Tere or large round worm; the Ascarides or small may-worm; the Cucurbitine or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tænia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite. Sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fetid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS and MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended
HANN'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS
THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West India and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.
It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age. They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Nervous Disorders, Violent cramps in Consumptions, the stomach and Loss of spirits, back Lowness of appetite, Indigestion Impurity of blood, Melancholy Hysterical affection, Gout in the stomach Inward weaknesses, Pains in the limbs and debility, Relaxations, etc.
